

WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A process for producing a deep-fried bean curd pouch which comprises emulsifying a soybean protein, a fat ingredient and water, followed by addition of a solution of 5 a coagulant.

2 The process according to claim 1, wherein the coagulant is a rapidly acting coagulant.

3 The process according to claim 1, wherein the coagulant is magnesium chloride, calcium chloride or a
10 bittern.

4 The process according to claim 1, wherein the coagulant is added in an amount of 0.5 to 5% by weight based on the soybean protein.

5 The deep-fried bean curd pouch produced by the 15 process according to claim 1.